England Wants An Itemized Account of King's Expenses

Berlin, Oct. 25.—The Berner Bund reports that King Nicholas of Montenegro has received up to the present time $80,000 a month for expenses of the Montenegrin army and government administration. "This subsidy was considered insufficient by the king, who asked London for more. The British government demanded that King Nicholas give an account of the expenses. The king was offended by this demand and it is said will send a Montenegrin prince to Petrograd and endeavor to mediate the controversy between the Montenegrin royal families and the economic allies."

MADE $3,000,000 IN WHEAT PIT

Chicago, Oct. 24.—With the leap in wheat prices of fifteen cents a bushel within the last ten days, La Salle street yesterday heard stories of fabulous fortunes won in the wheat pit. Arthur Catten, the quiet Canadian is said to have taken profits of sixty cents a bushel on more than 1,000,000 bushels. Catten recently was credited with having won a fortune thru his bullish proclivity.

A new figure in the limelight of the pit is Herbert J. Blum, who in the last five days is said to have taken a profit of twelve cents a bushel on 1,000,000 bushels, giving him $120,000 for less than a week's work. His friends say that in six months he has obtained more than $3,000,000 profit from the advance of grains and provisions.

McCLURE SEES TWO YEARS MORE OF BITTER WAR

NEW YORK PUBLISHER DECLARES THE ALLIES WILL EVENTUALLY WIN

S. S. McClure, the noted editor, who has just returned from France, predicts that the European war will continue for at least another year and is inclined to believe that it may last for two years more.

"On this last trip," says Mr. McClure, "I spent three months in England and France. I had intended to stay six weeks, but found it impossible in that time to cover the ground necessary for a careful study of the conditions of the allies. I visited

"I had a terrible case of eczema which covered both my hands. My fingers began to itch, then I used water blisters. I suffered for years, getting very little rest at night because of the itching. I used very many remedies, but they all failed to give me any relief. I tried Resinol Ointment and my hands were completely cured. They are soft and white and without a blemish, and I shall never be without Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap in my home." (Signed) Mrs. Jacob Schwartz, 120 W. ARREST OF MAN, CLEARED VINITA AX MURDER

Rogers, Ark., Oct. 24.—James Fletcher, 23 years old, who moved here ten days ago from Vinita, Okla., was arrested here today and confessed, the authorities say, to the murder of an aged man named Mayfield at Vinita on October 9. Fletcher's alleged victim was beaten to death with an ax and his body was found in a creek.

The arrest was requested by Sheriff Lamberger of Vinita. Fletcher will plead self defense. He says Mayfield demanded that he accompany him to Kansas to steal horses. Fletcher says he refused and an encounter followed. The authorities say Fletcher confessed that after killing Mayfield he robbed the dead man of $20 and stole his team and wagon. Fletcher has a wife and two children, 2 and 4 years old, living here.

HISTORY OF HATE IS TOLD BY AGED MAN

DETAILS OF THE MURDER OF ANSON GREEN AT FORGAN, OKLAHOMA

Wellington, Kan., Oct. 25.—Anson Green of Modesto, California, the 44-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Green, of 204 North Park street, who was shot and killed by D. O. McNeill on the main street of Forgan, Okla., Friday, was killed by a man who had been known by the family for about fifteen years and who it is said, had been helped time and time again by the father of the man he murdered.

E. D. Green, the father of the murdered man, lay on his sick bed, from which his attending physician says he will never rise, and told a reporter of The Leader of his acquaintance with the man who shot his son. His story was as follows:

"About fifteen years ago, while we lived south of Wellington, a man appeared at the house one spring morning and wanted work. We kept him that summer, but he went away after hreshing. The next year he came again and remained all summer. He kept that up for two or three years more. That was McNeill.

"Then, about ten years ago we moved to Beaver county and again he showed up. We helped him then as we did in this county. Then things came up that buried in McNeill the rudge which he tried to settle by killing Anson. One of the events happened while I was away from my farm with my wife, who was sick. McNeill hired a man to file a contest in my claim. But when it came to trial I beat him. Again he challenged my vote and when this case came to trial and the judge saw that he was trying to pull one over on me, and McNeill had attacked me in open court, and the judge had fined him for contempt of court, McNeill openly declared, 'I'll get even with you yet.'

"Then came the burning of our hreshing machine. I wasn't instrumental in having him arrested for that. The neighbors seemed to have ultrivated a dislike for McNeill and they insisted on his arrest. He escaped punishment on this charge on the insanity plea and now he has murdered my boy, Anson."

The aged father and mother are bearing up under their grief as well as can be expected.

The body was shipped from Forgan, Oklahoma, late Friday evening for Wellington but was caught at Woodward, Oklahoma, by a wire from the wife, at Modesto, asking that it be shipped to California.

Can a Girl Live an Honest and Upright Life on Six Dollars a Week?

ANSWERED BY

THE GIRL HE COULDN'T BUY

A POWERFUL PLAY OF
NEW YORK LIFE
By SUMNER NICHOLS

Prices ----- 25c, 35c and 50c
Seats on Sale at Corner Pharmacy

The heroine of this play typifies what a girl must do and suffer to escape the persecutions of those human vultures who prey on the lives of unprotected girls.

Scene from "The Girl He Couldn't Buy" Company, at the Guthrie Theatre on Saturday night, October 28th.

THE GIRL HE COULDN'T BUY. A new four-act drama by Sumner Nichols comes to Guthrie Theatre on October 28th, for one performance. It is a story of gripping and intense human interest in which a love story and the tangled threads of two captivated Americans are beautifully and brilliantly united in a sanely happy ending. There is no sermonizing or wearisome preachment in the crisp and often laughable dialogue, but in the life of the girl who is "The Girl He Couldn't Buy" of the play there is a lesson which parents, teachers, and employers as well as boys and girls who are just starting into the important affairs of life cannot learn too quickly or remember too long. Splendidly staged and acted, this new play must compel both the interest and the approval of all audiences and the mingled humor and pathos, the contrasted defeats and the final victories of the virile characters have won the enthusiastic applause and approval of all beholders. The plot is given around real incidents of every day American life and the fine meaning of it reaches and lingers with all classes of men and women.
